Reading GCIS’s occupation information just became easier! GCIS has improved its website usability and appeal. Making content easier to read by following the latest web research guidelines, these changes reduce the text on a page and add white space.

Occupation Overviews

The 550 occupation overviews in GCIS and the 390 occupation overviews in the GCIS Junior are now easier to read and focused on what is most important to know about an occupation.

Architects
Architects plan and design all types of buildings and structures. Projects may include:
• Houses
• Schools
• Hospitals

Choosing Occupations

Content has been updated to reflect what users need to know about occupations from how an occupation is different from a career to which occupations are growing and which occupations are decreasing.

What is an occupation?
How do I find information in occupations?
What should I keep in mind when choosing an occupation?

Videos

GCIS is starting a multi-year project to update the 100 most frequently viewed videos with first-person interviews of people currently working in the occupation. These engaging videos will offer users a more accurate portrayal of today’s occupations.

For additional information, please contact 404-413-1720 or gciscoordinator@gsu.edu